

14th Hitachi Young Leaders Initiative

1. What is Hitachi Young Leaders Initiative (HYLI)?

HYLI is a community relations program that aims to identify and nurture potential Asian leaders by bringing them together to discuss regional issues and foster relationships with influential government officials, prominent business leaders, academics and NGO representatives. Since its inauguration in Singapore in 1996, the HYLI has been successful in bringing the best and brightest students in Asia together. The initiative offers student participants a unique platform to broaden their outlook on regional and global issues while promoting Asian values and cross-cultural understanding.

▶ What do they get out of it?

Selected students represent their country at the forum, where ministerial-level officials, ambassadors, business leaders and academics will discuss the important issues facing the region and engage in a dialogue with the student participants, who will then work together to present their ideas about how these issues can be addressed in the future. HYLI offers a unique opportunity for students to make contacts with these leaders and have their ideas heard by people who matter.
