The screenshot shows the ArcMap website homepage. The browser address bar displays "desktop.arcgis.com/en/arcmap/". The navigation menu includes "Home", "Get Started", "Map", "Analyze", "Manage Data", "Tools", and "Extensions". The main content area features a blue header with the "ArcMap" logo. Below the header, there is a "Released Version: 10.6 (January 2018)" and "Previous Version: 10.5.1 (June 2017)" section. A prominent orange "GET ARCMAP" button is visible. Below the button, there are links for "Quick Start Guide", "System Requirements", "Installation Guide", "License Manager Guide", and "What's New". The page is divided into two main sections: "Build Maps" and "Perform Analysis". The "Build Maps" section includes a map image and text describing the use of maps for visualization and analysis. The "Perform Analysis" section includes a map image and text describing the use of tools for spatial analysis and data management.
